

LOGGING INTO RJO VANTAGE

Once you have installed the platform double click on the RJO vantage icon:

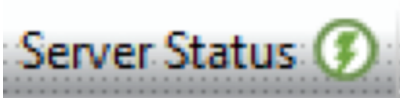

You will be prompted with a small credentials window such as this one:

The image shows a small, rectangular dialog box titled 'RJO Vantage'. It has a blue header bar with the RJO Vantage logo on the left and a close button (an 'X' in a square) on the right. The main area of the dialog box is white and contains two text input fields. The first field is labeled 'User Name' and is empty. The second field is labeled 'Password' and is also empty. Below the input fields are two buttons: 'OK' and 'Cancel', both with underlined letters.

Enter the username and password provided to you by our back office department in order to login. You can change the password from within the platform later on:

The image shows the same 'RJO Vantage' login dialog box as in the previous image. In this version, the 'User Name' field contains the text 'hello' and the 'Password' field contains several asterisks, indicating that the password is masked. The 'OK' and 'Cancel' buttons are still present at the bottom.

If the login attempt is successful, you should see the platform running and a green icon right next to server status in the middle of the main toolbar:

If you are not sure whether the platform is ready for trading, consider adding an instrument in the Quote page and check if the prices are moving as well as the Quote time. Please note that the platform requires a steady internet connection to function properly or else you might face disconnection.
